

BUDGET BLUES

Kelly calls it Right

MEDIA RELEASE: May 30th, 2012

The attached press release from SA MLC Kelly Vincent (d4d) explains it perfectly

The SA disability community is "holding its breath" for Thursday's budget

The release of the Social Inclusion Board "Strong Voices" in October 2012 has provided a detailed path forward for a sector in crisis. The language of the strong voices report was total despair and a need for serious intervention now!

The only question is whether SA Premier Jay Weatherill will deliver the massive increase in funding that is so desperately needed.

Kelly's concern on local Minister Ian Hunter being "resigned to the fact that disability waiting lists continue to increase", reflects a growing feeling within the SA community and reflects the escalating calls from constituents seeking help to her office. More and more people are concerned that this SA government's focus is on talk and not action as "Strong Voices" demanded.

People quite rightly have high expectations from Premier Weatherill

Let's hope Thursday brings long overdue relief for people with Disability in SA
