

“Rubbed out by the Feds?”

MEDIA RELEASE: April 24th, 2014

The attached link is important to all charitable groups with tax office accreditation.

Not helpful when the Federal Government changes the rules and makes more work for charities and not for profits that already operate on a shoe string.

We have been very busy fighting state and federal elections in the last 18 months

With some success!!!

And we certainly have not gone away.

Not quite sure how hard the Federal Government tried to contact us since our IDASA postal address is unchanged for 5 years and our website and URL is the same.

The most simplest of web searches would have found us easily

Still getting bad service from the Federal Government is something we are used too in the disability sector?

Maybe someone in Canberra decided to rub us out because we keep too close a watch on what our elected members do?

We circulate this link to assist any other groups who may be unaware of the changed circumstances or know someone who is on the attached list

Please circulate this link to your mailing lists and post online and on Facebook etc

It is getting increasingly difficult to get registered with ATO Tax Exempt status and no one needs this grief while continuing to do great charity work

Please note it is less than 60 days until the deregistration process kicks in

Our low opinion of some people in Canberra just dropped a couple more notches
